Participant Copyright and Distribution Form

Participants are encouraged to make their work available through the Academic Summit's online conference archive. Your presentation, poster, or artwork will be preserved via a permanent URL and made available to researchers worldwide through an open access repository. Monthly download reports will be sent to the email address you provide, allowing you to see how often your work has been accessed and from what geographic locations, as well as the search terms and referring sites that led readers to your work. By sharing your work this way, you will increase its impact and allow the University of Louisiana System to showcase the high caliber of work done by its faculty, staff and students.

By giving your express permission you are agreeing to the following Copyright and Distribution Agreement.

You certify that the work submitted to the conference is your original work and that you have the right to grant the permissions contained within this agreement.

You also certify that, to the best of your knowledge, your work does not infringe upon anyone else's copyright, patent rights, trade secrets, or trademarks, nor does it constitute defamation, invasion of privacy, or violation of other rights of any person or entity.

By submitting your proposal, you grant to the University of Louisiana System the non-exclusive right to archive and make it accessible via ScholarWorks@UNO, an open access digital repository. You also agree that the University of Louisiana System may, without changing the content, convert your digital copy to any medium or format necessary for the purpose of long-term preservation. Responsibility for any copyright infringement of your work, downloaded from ScholarWorks@UNO, will fall solely upon the infringing user.
